Project Description

With this project the Sustainable Mountains Education Centre in Peja drafted, designed and developed a series of three outdoor environmental education packages, readily available for three age-groups of pupils. The outdoor activities described in the packages are also used for visiting school classes, when the Centre team takes the pupils into the moutains. Some require preparatory lessons at school through which the teacher gets motivated for the outdoor work along with the pupils. Other activities from the packages are since this project offered on a regular basis as after-school activities at the Centre.

TreeVelop Part

Ms. Duijvelaar was responsible for the training-on-the-job of the local team at the Sustainable Mountains Education Centre as well as the writing and design of the educational packages for three age-groups of pupils.
